About NASPA

NASPA – Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education (www.naspa.org) is the leading association for the advancement, health, and sustainability of the student affairs profession. We serve a full range of professionals who provide programs, experiences, and services that cultivate student learning and success in concert with the missions of our colleges and universities.

Established in 1918 and founded in 1919, NASPA is comprised of 15,000 members in 50 states, 25 countries, and 8 U.S. Territories. Through high-quality professional development, strong policy advocacy, and substantive research to inform practice, NASPA meets the diverse needs and invests in realizing the potential of all its members under the guiding principles of integrity, innovation, inclusion, and inquiry.

VISION

NASPA is the leading voice for the student affairs profession.

MISSION

To be the principal source for leadership, scholarship, professional development, and advocacy for student affairs.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- |                   |   |

Welcome!

Dear NASPA Friends:

On behalf of the NASPA Board of Directors and 2017 NASPA Conference Leadership Committee, welcome to San Antonio! Our 99th Annual Conference is centered on our guiding principles: Innovation, Inquiry, Integrity, and Inclusion. You will see these concepts referred to again and again throughout the conference as we connect our work to the global environment of our profession, our colleagues, and our students.

As student affairs professionals, our role in higher education is to facilitate the success of all students, with particular attention to those students who have been historically underrepresented in higher education and/or who are from marginalized communities. Through the wide range of student affairs programs and services at various institutions of higher education, we enhance access; support student development in a variety of areas; create opportunities for students and other members of our communities to ask, confront, discuss and debate the challenging questions of our times; and help students identify and maximize their talents and skills toward gainful employment and meaningful lives.

Historically, higher education also been an engine for social change, whether that be through scientific research, public policy, or student activism. As we have during other eras, student affairs educators have a unique opportunity to offer new and creative ideas, ask tough questions, stand strong in the midst of difficult times, and ensure that the voices of students who are at various points of the ideological spectrum are heard, supported, and affirmed.

Many of us are currently challenged professionally and personally by an ever-changing national and global environment. We, as an Association, come together in these moments to share promising practices, research, ideas, and information. We also come together to provide support structures to help you plan and adapt, and to be reminded of the foundations that gird our profession and our work with students.

The Conference Leadership Committee has worked diligently for over a year to craft a conference that showcases the work of your colleagues and highlights critical issues.

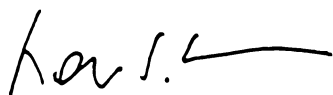

Our opening session, featuring award-winning journalist Anderson Cooper, will set the tone for conference by highlighting the global nature and impact of higher education. Be thinking of questions you would like to pose to Mr. Cooper as there will be an opportunity for you to tweet questions prior to and during the opening session. Following the opening session, we have a jammed packed three days of reinvigorating learning sessions and opportunities to connect with colleagues.

While you are here, we invite you to enjoy all that San Antonio has to offer including eye-opening history and culture. From our opening reception in Sunset Station to the rich Latina/o/x and Hispanic art, music, and values that permeates the community, we hope you enjoy the Riverwalk and learn about the history of the Alamo.

Again, we welcome you to San Antonio and the 99th annual gathering of our Association. Thank you for your continued commitment to your professional development. We hope you enjoy the conference!

HISTORY OF SAN ANTONIO

Welcome to San Antonio! The city intertwines traditions and history from the original inhabitants of the Tap Pilam Coahuiltecan Nation, the Spaniards who colonized the city, the Mexican leaders who ruled for a time, and those from Germany who settled in Texas. San Antonio offers a unique opportunity to see the many architectural and traditional elements that both celebrate and recognize the area's storied past. From the Spanish Missions to the beautiful River Walk, the area is alive with multiple ethnicities and traditions. The Battle of the Alamo, in 1836, where Mexican troops overwhelmed the garrison and captured the fort is widely seen as a symbol of Texan independence. "Remember the Alamo" became the rallying cry for the Texas Revolution in the Mexican-American War and the Battle of Jacinto.

The city comes alive each April with Fiesta San Antonio, which started in 1891 as a one-parade event which honored the memory of those heroes of the Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto. Horse-drawn carriages paraded down the streets near the Alamo with flower blossoms and colorful streamers. From the Fiesta Royalty with Crowns and Fiesta pins, there is much to celebrate during this exciting time. The famous Paseo del Rio, or the River Walk, is also a must see with shops, bars, and restaurants and many museums. The Conference Leadership Committee and the Local Arrangements Team are excited to honor the experience of Fiesta San Antonio and NIOSA on Sunday evening and hope that you take some time to explore this culturally rich city!

INDIGENOUS PEOPLES WELCOME IN SAN ANTONIO

The NASPA Board of Directors and the NASPA Indigenous Peoples Knowledge Community developed an Indigenous Protocol Practices Policy where our Association acknowledges the people indigenous to the land and the territory on which we meet as a sign of respect. By inviting a local Elder and/or community leader to participate in the meeting in a meaningful way, NASPA recognizes the nation's indigenous peoples' history and wishes to share the cultural traditions and customs with the participants of the NASPA Annual Conference.

Along with the Indigenous Peoples Knowledge Community, the NASPA Board of Directors and the Conference Leadership Committee welcomes Isaac Alvarez Cardenas who will join us at the Opening Session. Isaac is the director of programs at the American Indians in Texas at the Spanish Colonial Missions. He will lead us in acknowledging and appreciating the families and territory where we will live, work, and learn during our time in San Antonio.

Isaac Alvarez Cardenas

A member of the Tap Pilam Coahuiltecan (Qua-wheel-tek-can) Nation, Native American Indian, son of an Apache mother and a Coahuiltecan father, raised in the inner city west side of San Antonio, Texas, Isaac is a father of two young adult sons, and married to his wife Sylvia for 32 years. He is currently working at the Spanish Colonial Mission's "Rites of Passage Program". He was also involved in the conceptualizing of the Avance's "Fatherhood" project in 1988. Isaac is a graduate of Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, with a Masters in Science, Psychology Counseling (LPC Intern). Isaac is also a Mental Health Psychotherapist working with children and families at mental health clinics in the city. It should be noted that Isaac has chosen to reside in the inner city, working with high-risk, minorities, families, and youth for over twenty years. His purpose is to help strengthen the families in the community by providing culturally competent spiritual support, mental wellness, and emotional enlightenment.

PRESENTATION OF COLORS RECOGNIZING MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS AND THE MILITARY IN SAN ANTONIO

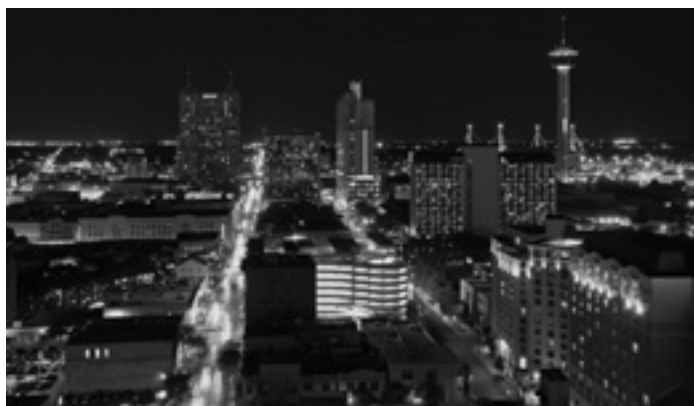

San Antonio has been coined “Military USA” and is currently home to the United States largest active and retired military populations. In addition, the Department of Defense’s largest medical center is located at the Joint Base San Antonio Fort Sam Houston. More than 38,000 students graduate from military training in the San Antonio area each year and training, equipping, and caring for America’s service members is a way of life. We are pleased to welcome the ROTC Honor Guard from the University of Texas at San Antonio to provide the presentation of colors at the NASPA Opening Session. This presentation is in recognition of the San Antonio area’s commitment to United States Service members and to the military-connected students located at postsecondary institutions throughout the country. Co-sponsored by the NASPA Conference Leadership Committee and the NASPA Veterans Knowledge Community, we are thankful for the service of our military-connected students.

La Villita

LATINA/O/X AND HISPANIC CULTURE IN SAN ANTONIO & AT THE NASPA ANNUAL CONFERENCE

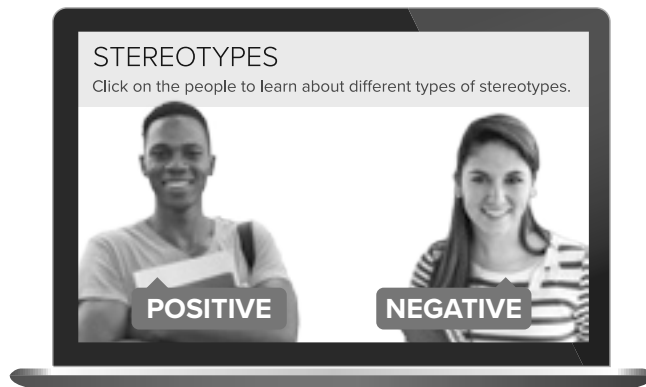

Although the majority of Hispanics living in San Antonio are of Mexican decent, there are many other cultures connected to the history and current culture of the city! The rich art, cuisine, and culture are felt throughout the city through some of the city’s most famous artistic attributes, the amazing architecture, and the historic-based festivals like Fiesta San Antonio. The San Antonio Missions can bring you back in time to feel and experience the powerful and vivid stories of the Mexican-American War. Just south of the River Walk is La Villita which was established to teach regional arts and crafts and to serve as an artists’ market. The NASPA Annual Conference Leadership Committee, the Local Arrangements Committee, and the Latino Knowledge Community are proud to share with you experiences like Fiesta and NIOSA which fuse the past with the future which demonstrate the commitment to tradition and contribute to honoring the Latina/o/x community in San Antonio. We hope you take the time to learn and experience, and honor, the essence of the Latina/o/x culture and all that the city has to offer.

CELEBRATING LOVING DAY

The Loving Day display can be viewed in the Convention Center, Park View Foyer from Sunday, March 12 - Tuesday, March 14.

At the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference, the MultiRacial Knowledge Community (MRKC) will acknowledge and celebrate 50 years since the landmark Supreme Court case of Loving v. Virginia made it illegal to ban interracial marriage.

Loving Day was founded by Ken Tanabe, first as a website used as an educational tool and then as a celebration. Ken Tanabe will be speaking on Tuesday, March 14 at 3:30 p.m. in Hemisfair Ballroom, C3. Loving Day is the unofficial holiday that cities across the country are slowly adopting to celebrate the lives of the fast-growing multiracial population. The mission statement is to fight racial prejudice through education and to build the multicultural community.

The MRKC will commemorate “Loving” with a display at the NASPA Annual Conference that showcases interracial couples and families as well as those of transracial adoptees.

CELL PHONES

As a courtesy to presenters, speakers, and attendees, please switch cell phones to silent mode during educational sessions and speakers. Please leave the session when answering calls. While live tweeting from sessions is generally encouraged for the benefit of colleagues that cannot be in attendance, please be respectful of the varying levels of comfort of presenters and other participants.

CONFERENCE BLOG AND TWITTER FEED

Interact with other conference participants online! Read the NASPA Annual Conference blog - <http://conference2017.naspa.org/blog/> - and comment to post items to your Facebook page. The blog also includes a Twitter feed, so participants can join the real-time discussion by including #NASPA17 in their tweets.

CONFERENCE EVALUATION

An overall conference evaluation will be emailed to all registered participants on Tuesday, March 14, during the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference. A quick presenter evaluation will be included in the NASPA Conference App. At the end of each session, please evaluate the presenter. An opportunity to evaluate the content of each educational session attended will be included as part of the conference evaluation process. Participants' name badges are scanned on the way into each session so that we can customize the evaluation for each person. NASPA will NOT collect any paper evaluations in an effort to maintain a sustainable conference experience.

CONFERENCE HANDOUTS

Continuing NASPA's commitment to a sustainable environment, educational session presenters were asked not to bring paper handouts. Plan to bring recycled paper to take notes, knowing that presentations will be available for download from the NASPA website following the conference.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS

Continuing Education (CE) credits toward certification or recertification for counselors are available through NASPA. NASPA is an NBCC-Approved Continuing Education Provider (ACEP™) and may offer NBCC-approved clock hours for events that meet NBCC requirements. All educational sessions in the program, except for the poster sessions, are eligible for clock hours. The ACEP is solely responsible for all aspects of the program. You will need to complete an NBCC form and complete an online evaluation of individual sessions in order to receive continuing education contact hours for this event. Forms can be obtained at on-site registration, Convention Center, Tower View Foyer.

CORPORATE SESSIONS

Within the NASPA Annual Conference program book, you will notice a few programs that are labeled as “Corporate Sessions.” These are educational program sessions provided by corporate sponsors of the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference. NASPA seeks support from corporations that support the association’s mission, values, and goals. NASPA does not endorse the products or services of any of its corporate sponsors, however, through our educational mission, NASPA provides opportunities for members to interact with our corporate partners.

DOCTORAL SEMINAR

Grand Hyatt, Bonham D

Sunday, 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

In this day-long program, part-time and full-time doctoral students will engage with seminar faculty in dialogue, activities, and strategy generation that will assist them in meeting their doctoral student goals. The seminar is structured with enough flexibility to assure that individual interests and needs are addressed and includes time to network with faculty and doctoral student peers. Faculty Council members, Susana Muñoz, assistant professor, Colorado State University, and Laura Page, doctoral candidate, University of Missouri, serve as lead facilitators for this seminar.

EQUITY, INCLUSION, & BIAS INCIDENT RESPONSE

NASPA holds professional conferences and meetings to enable its members to receive professional development, network with colleagues, and engage with the Association. The Association is committed to providing a harassment-free environment for all participants, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, physical appearance, race, ethnicity, religion or other group identity. We value civil discourse and free exploration of competing ideas and concepts with a fundamental respect for the rights, dignity, and value of all persons. To report a bias incident or equity and inclusion issue to the NASPA leadership during the NASPA Annual Conference, visit the NASPA Onsite Office in Convention Center, River Level, Room 008.

EXHIBIT HALL

Convention Center, Hall 3

Plan to take advantage of opportunities to see the exciting array of displays and learn more about the companies and/or organizations exhibiting and what they have to offer. Also, have your headshot taken, get a massage, stop by the poster and wellness sessions, and be sure to participate in the Exhibitor Passport Raffle where you can walk away with a $500 American Express gift card! For a floor plan and listing of exhibitors, please see pages 191-203.

The Faculty Lounge will serve as a gathering place for faculty to meet with colleagues, share ideas, or just relax between sessions. The Faculty Lounge will be available Monday, March 13 and Tuesday, March 14, 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. See Highlighted Faculty Programs and Events for additional Faculty Lounge activities.

Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) & Conference Attendance

Pursuant to FLSA regulations, NASPA registrants should consult with their institution or organization regarding their FLSA reporting requirements. The NASPA Annual Conference is a professional student affairs conference that is comprised of educational sessions scheduled over a period of 5 days. Educational sessions take place during the following hours:

Saturday and Sunday:	9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. and 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. (additional registration is required for pre-conference workshops)
Sunday:	5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Monday:	8:30 a.m. – 12:05 p.m. 1:15 p.m. – 4:45 p.m.
Tuesday:	8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Wednesday:	8:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

Receptions, dinners, and other social events outside of the hours listed above are considered optional and are not required or mandatory aspects of conference attendance.

FIRST-TIME CONFERENCE ATTENDEE (FTA) INFORMATION

As a first-time attendee to the NASPA Annual Conference, you are automatically enrolled in the FTA Network. Your first-time attendee committee is made up of volunteers whose goal is to orient new conference attendees to the opportunities available at the annual conference and within the NASPA organization regardless of your professional level. For more information on FTA Events, go to <http://conference2017.naspa.org/engage/first-time-attendees>

First-Time Attendee Lounge

Convention Center, Park View Foyer

In this area, take time to relax, network, and get to know new colleagues. Interested in finding individuals to dine with over breakfast, lunch, or dinner? Show up here and start networking. This space is exclusive to first-time attendees, so no need to be nervous about interacting with your associates.

First-Time Attendee Orientation

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom, C3

Sunday, March 12, 3:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.

During this must-attend orientation, first-time attendees will learn tips and tricks to making the most of a NASPA conference experience, as well as start networking with individuals like themselves. Although you may have attended other professional conferences, it is helpful to learn the nuances of NASPA. Additional Orientation offered on Monday, March 13 from 7:30 a.m. – 8:00 a.m., Convention Center, 007 A.

First-Time Attendee Networking & Social

Grand Hyatt, Lone Star Ballroom

Monday, March 13, 6:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

Catch up with colleagues you met yesterday and learn how to navigate the Communities Fair from seasoned NASPA attendees.

Conference Debrief

Convention Center, 214 A

Tuesday, March 14, 5:45 p.m. – 6:45 p.m.

Reflect with your newly acquired friends and colleagues on your past few days and learn how to continue the learning after the conference. Also, hear from leaders of the 2018 Conference Leadership Committee on why you should attend next year in Philadelphia.

FITNESS AND WELLNESS (#NASPAFit)

Check daily schedules for exact times and locations. Remember to wear sneakers, bring a bottle of water, and a hand towel. Yoga mats and large towels will be provided for Yoga classes.

GENDER PRONOUNS

As an Association that recognizes and appreciates diversity in relation to gender identity and expression, NASPA strives to create an inclusive environment at professional development events for all attendees. This effort is designed to allow attendees to celebrate their true identity and share with other attendees how they would like to be recognized.

During the registration process, we provided opportunities for individuals to indicate their preferred pronoun. This effort is designed to reduce the discomfort that one may experience should one conference attendee reference another with an inaccurate pronoun. If you did not indicate a pronoun during the registration process but would like to add this to your name badge, or you would like to change it on any day during the conference and have a different pronoun on your badge, please visit the Badge Reprint Station, located at registration in the convention center to make adjustments. We encourage everyone to include their pronoun on their name badge!

GRAD PREP AND COMMUNITIES FAIR

Grant Hyatt, Lone Star Ballroom

Monday, March 13, 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

Take this opportunity to view information about student affairs graduate preparation programs on various college campuses. The Grad Prep and Communities Fair is sponsored in part by OOHLALA Mobile.

HEADSHOT LOUNGE™

Convention Center, Hall 3

Everyone will need a professional headshot at some point in their career. During the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference, the planning committee has created an opportunity for an executive photo portrait-taking experience where conference attendees can get that perfect headshot! Photos are complementary to conference registrants and photo sessions are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Once photographed, you will receive a business card with information on how to download your professional photo. The lounge will be available during Exhibit Hall hours on both Monday and Tuesday, and is sponsored in part by Involvio.

HOSPITALITY HEADQUARTERS

Convention Center, Tower View Foyer

NASPA Hospitality volunteers will be working in tandem with local experts to provide attendees with a wealth of information. Hospitality volunteers will provide NASPA and conference information and give you pointers on how to maneuver through the program.

INNOVATION STATION

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom Foyer

Monday and Tuesday, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

By popular demand, we are bringing back the Innovation Station for a second year. This is a unique space with the explicit goal of connecting attendees to innovative programs and new ways of thinking on campuses other than their own. With hand-picked presenters chosen for their expertise and session content, the Innovation Station offers a wide range of topic areas including technology, assessment, and sexual violence prevention. New this year are our Ignite Sessions and Dissertation Tank Sessions (think Shark Tank)!

Ignite Sessions take over where SA Speaks leaves off. Three presenters will have eight minutes each to share their topics and then will be able to follow up with small groups for the rest of the session to talk and exchange ideas in a more collaborative way. Join us for three presentations in one!

Also new this year is the Dissertation Tank. Are you at the beginning of, or in the midst of your dissertation and want some expert help? If you have your research classes completed, your topic narrowed, and you know the So What? You can talk with a panel of faculty experts to get their feedback, ideas and suggestions. Each person will have ten minutes to discuss with the faculty and must be signed up prior to the event.

The Innovation Station is made possible thanks to our sponsors: Campus Labs, ClearScholar, Compatibility LLC, OOH LALA Mobile, and Western Union.

LOST AND FOUND

If you find articles left behind by other conference attendees, please bring them to NASPA Staff Office, Convention Center, River Level, 008. Articles not claimed by Wednesday, March 15 at 10:00 a.m. will be shipped back to the NASPA office in Washington, DC and held for approximately 30 days.

NAME BADGES

All conference participants are required to wear their name badges for admission to all sessions, the Exhibit Hall, and events. Please note that your name badge will have a QR Code that will allow you access to workshops, the Awards Luncheon, or other ticketed events. It will also be scanned as you walk into each session room in order to customize your evaluation and track the number of people in each room.

NASPAActs in San Antonio & Call to Action Vigil

Convention Center, Hall 3

In light of legislation proposed in Texas and in other states around the country that is discriminatory to many populations, NASPA is proud to provide several opportunities to show our support of the LGBTQIA community, DACA students and colleagues, and other members who are being targeted by this type of legislation and federal action. NASPAActs is providing a space at the conference where you can pick up a button, sign up to participate in the Call to Action Vigil, make a sign indicating your personal support for the affected communities, and join in the #NASPAActs photo campaign at #NASPA17! The Call to Action Vigil will take place Tuesday, March 14 at 6:30 p.m. at the Marriott Riverwalk, Riverview Terrace.

NASPA FOUNDATION BOOTH

Convention Center, Park View Foyer

Monday, 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Tuesday, 8:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

Visit the NASPA Foundation booth to learn about the scholarships, grants and awards by and for NASPA members. You can engage in exciting new activities, purchase “Pick Your Prize” raffle tickets and learn about our #SAInspire initiative. Raffle items include NASPA Regional baskets and conference registrations. Learn more about Staff Development Consultations being offered and the 2017 Pillars of the Profession.

Proceeds fund the NASPA Innovation Grants program and other Foundation scholarships and awards. You can also text to give from your mobile device by texting, “GIVE” to 202-759-7645.

OPENING SESSION & RECEPTION

Opening Session, Convention Center, Hall 1

Sunday, 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.

Join us as we celebrate the opening of the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference. NASPA President Kevin Kruger, NASPA Board Chair Lori White, and Conference Chair Nancy Crimmin will welcome attendees. And our keynote speaker, award-winning journalist, Anderson Cooper, will engage with NASPA conference attendees and National Society of Leadership and Service members. The National Society of Leadership and Service is a strategic partner for the NASPA Annual Conference opening session and made it possible for Mr. Cooper to join us in San Antonio.

Opening Reception, Sunset Station

Sunday, 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

The Opening Reception will immediately follow the Opening Session at Sunset Station. Join your NASPA colleagues for an evening local music, experiences, and loads of fun and excitement. Come celebrate with your friends at this historic location to celebrate the opening of the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference!

PHOTO SCAVENGER HUNT

Everyone loves a good scavenger hunt! Play along by photographing any of the following items before the conference ends, and experience the event through the eyes of your fellow attendees by following the hashtag #NASPA17PhotoHunt.

Categories:

- Photo on a River Barge
- Photo with a School Mascot
- Photo at the Mercado
- Someone Participating in a NASPA Wellness Activity
- Your Favorite Exhibitor
- Someone Writing a Love Letter
- Someone Participating in NASPActs
- A NASPA Foundation Activity
- A Dog Spotting
- A Celebration of Loving Day

This scavenger hunt is not a race, but rather a way to share in a common activity with fellow NASPA attendees. No rules, simply post your photos to Instagram using the hashtag #NASPA17Photohunt.

An assortment of prizes will be given out to the top photos and winners will be notified via NASPA's Instagram page @naspapics.

PRAYER ROOMS

Saturday - Wednesday: Prayer Rooms are located in The Grand Hyatt.

Conference attendees who would like a space to pray during the day while attending the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference may use the prayer rooms set aside for this purpose. Two rooms located in the Grand Hyatt, one for women, and one for men, have been provided so that conference attendees do not have to return to individual hotel rooms. Keys for these rooms can be picked up at Hospitality Headquarters, Convention Center, Tower View Foyer.

PRESENTER READY ROOM

Convention Center, 208

A Presenter Ready Room will be provided for all presenters at this year's conference. Please make sure to still visit the Registration Desk to check-in and receive your name badge and conference materials. It is not necessary that you visit the Presenter Ready Room. It is simply there for your convenience as a presenter.

The Presenter Ready Room will have the same equipment available as in the presentation rooms. The room is available on a first-come, first-served basis so please be patient with your fellow presenters. We also ask that in fairness to everyone, please limit your time when using the equipment.

- An LCD projector will be available to preview your presentation. You must bring your own laptop to your presentation.
- AV Technicians will be available if you run into any issues.
- Please bring any necessary adapters if you have a Mac or tablet for your presentation.

The Presenter Ready Room will be available during the following hours:

Sunday	3:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.
Monday & Tuesday	7:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Wednesday	7:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m.

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS EDUCATORS

As part of the NASPA Professional Standards Division's continuing efforts to assist in making professional development experiences more intentional and purposeful, all of NASPA's professional development events utilize the Professional Competencies for Student Affairs Educators. The icons are designed to visually assist conference attendees in shaping their professional development experience.

PROGRAM BOOK

In our continued efforts in being more sustainable and mobile friendly, we will once again not include the abstracts for educational sessions in this printed copy of the program booklet. The abstracts are available online, on the mobile app, and via a PDF document that you may download to your computer or tablet.

PROGRAM CHANGES AND UPDATES

Beginning Saturday, any changes and updates to programming and schedules should be submitted to NASPA Headquarters by 4:00 p.m. on the day prior to the requested change. Updates will be pushed to conference attendees each morning through the NASPA mobile app.

REGIONAL RECEPTIONS

Monday, March 13, 9:00 p.m. – 11:00 p.m.

Regional receptions are a great networking opportunity and the chance to catch up with old friends and make new ones. Regional receptions will take place within close proximity to one another so that you may visit other regions if you choose.

REGISTRATION

Convention Center, Tower View Foyer

All individuals must check-in to receive their name badge and conference materials. Name badges are required to attend all sessions and major events. If you have already pre-registered for the conference and do not have a balance due, you should check-in at the pre-registered/badge pick-up counters. If you are registering for the first time, need to pay any balance due, or renew your membership, you should check in at the on-site registration counters. Please note that name badges are required for all events.

Hours of Operation

Friday	4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Saturday	7:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Sunday	7:30 a.m. – 5:30 p.m.
Monday	8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Tuesday	8:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

Any schedule changes will be posted on the NASPA Mobile App. Please check this periodically for the most up-to-date information about session changes and other conference news. In addition, schedule changes will be scrolling on an LCD Screen near the registration area.

SERVICE PROJECT

This year's conference attendees will have the opportunity to volunteer with the San Antonio Food Bank on Sunday, March 12th from 8 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.. Volunteers can expect to work together to sort and/or pack produce, nonperishable foods, and household items, preparing them for distribution.

The College and University Food Bank Alliance (CUFBA) just announced that their membership has reached 400 members, and as the number of food pantries opening on campuses continues to increase, so does the need for higher education professionals to collaborate about how best to provide services to help students experiencing food insecurity. Participating in the NASPA Community Service Project at the San Antonio Food Bank not only provides participants the chance to give back, but it also inspires collaboration between professionals to share ideas and best practices about this issue.

The San Antonio Food Bank provides food and grocery products to more than 530 partner agencies in 16 counties throughout Southwest Texas. In FY2015, the San Antonio Food Bank provided nearly 62 million pounds of food. The mission of the SAFB is to fight hunger in Southwest Texas through food distribution, programs, education, and advocacy.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Conference Planning Committee has worked to reduce our environmental impact and asks for your assistance. Please use available recycling stations, fill reusable water bottles at available water stations, turn off lights when not needed in your hotel room, use the linen reuse services in all hotels, and take advantage of opportunities to share taxis, use public transportation, etc., when departing the hotel. Also, don't forget to re-use your conference bags for shopping when you return home.

THE WORLD NEEDS MORE LOVE LETTERS

Convention Center, Exhibit Hall 3

Visit with Hannah Brencher in the NASPA Exhibit Hall and write your own love letter! Author, TED Speaker, and online educator with a heart for building leaders, Hannah will share her story and tell you how you can participate in this amazing opportunity to show total strangers that they are not alone in the world. Since 2011, More Love Letters has spread to over 70 countries, all 50 states, and over 100 college campuses. Come to the NASPA Exhibit Hall to write a Love Letter to one of the bundles we have selected or write a Love Letter to another NASPA participant.

TUESDAY NIGHT LIP SYNC COMPETITION

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

Tuesday, 9:00 p.m. – 12:00 a.m.

Who's up for some good ole fashion fun, food, fellowship, and friendly competition? Well, get ready for the NASPA 2017 March Madness Lip Sync Competition! You and two to five of your friends can form a team and bring your best lip sync rendition of your favorite songs and WIN something fabulous. The competition will take place on Tuesday, March 14 beginning at 9 p.m. sharp. Bring your fans with you because the audience will determine the winners. GET PUMPED!

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT TRACK

This year's conference includes a track of highlighted sessions for undergraduate student attendees. Students are open to attend any educational session of their choosing, but programs on the undergraduate track have been identified as having content that is beneficial for students to know as they explore their interest in student affairs. We encourage you to attend these featured sessions as they will highlight the ACPA/NASPA professional competencies, graduate school preparation, and leadership. For a full listing of programs, please see page 35.

VICE PRESIDENT OF STUDENT AFFAIRS OFFICERS' (VPSA) LOUNGE

Convention Center, 217 A

This lounge will serve as a place to gather with colleagues, share information, or just relax. The VPSA Lounge will be available:

Saturday, March 11, 12:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Sunday, March 12, 8:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Monday, March 13, 7:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, March 14, 7:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

This year's VPSA Lounge is sponsored by Strada Education Network. The Lounge is also sponsored in part by Involvio and MTVU. Furniture for the Lounge is provided by University Loft Company and the VPSA gift is provided by Eco Promotional Products, Inc.

VIRTUAL TICKET

Make the most of your experience at the NASPA Annual Conference by adding the Virtual Ticket to your registration. For one low price, you can enjoy on demand access to over 60 general sessions over the coming year. You and your staff can use the Virtual Ticket to stay on top of the relevant campus issues that over 6,000 of your colleagues will be learning about this year.

The Virtual Ticket OnDemand Plus includes:

- 12 months of access
- over 60 of the best education sessions from the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference
- ability to play and replay sessions as many times as you wish
- downloadable materials
- access to an additional 50 session from the 2016 NASPA Annual Conference

This package is $299 for NASPA members, and only $99 for each unlimited additional logins for your staff. Register onsite or with our partners at PlaybackNASPA.com after March 15, 2017.

The Virtual Ticket is sponsored in part by Adirondack Solutions, Advantage Design Group, Civitas Learning, Fidelis Education, Modo Labs, and Mongoose Research.

VOLUNTEER HEADQUARTERS

Convention Center, Park View Foyer

Volunteers are critical to the success of the conference! Join the volunteer team and enjoy an opportunity to network, spend time with colleagues, and make the most of your conference experience. Volunteering is simple, and works around your schedule, making it easy for you to participate as a typical conference attendee. Make plans to stop by and commit at least a few hours of your time. Conference volunteers will be easily identified by their blue volunteer vest.

WI-FI ACCESS

As more attendees are bringing and using their own personal devices, (i.e., Laptops, Smart Phones, Tablets, etc.), the Cyber Café is becoming obsolete. In an effort to be more sustainable, we are providing complimentary wireless access in the NASPA occupied public areas of the Convention Center as well as in your sleeping rooms at all NASPA Conference hotels. Please turn off the Wi-Fi on your personal devices when you are not using the wireless connection. Be a good steward of the wireless bandwidth for other NASPA colleagues. Wireless access will be available beginning Saturday, March 11, and run through Wednesday, March 15. Wi-Fi is sponsored in part by HBO.

12-STEP PROGRAM SPACE

An open, un-facilitated space is available for conference attendees identifying on any spectrum of recovery to meet. Space will be available over the following dates and times:

Marriott Riverwalk, Milam

Sunday, March 12, 2017 from 8 a.m. – 11 p.m.

Marriott Rivercenter, Conference Room 10

Monday, March 13, 2017 from 8 a.m. – 7 p.m.

Marriott Riverwalk, Valero

Tuesday, March 14, 2017 from 8 a.m. – 11 p.m.

TIME CHANGE

Please remember that Daylight Savings Time starts Sunday, March 12 at 2:00 a.m. This means clocks need to be turned forward one hour.

NASPA Annual Conference Opening Session & Keynote Speaker

Anderson Cooper

Convention Center, Hall 1

Join your colleagues for the 99th NASPA Annual Conference Opening Session and keynote speaker, award-winning journalist, Anderson Cooper. Join Lori White, NASPA Board Chair; Nancy Crimmin, NASPA Annual Conference Chair; and Kevin Kruger, NASPA President, as we celebrate our Association, the student affairs profession, and the important work we do each day.

Special thanks to our strategic partner, The National Society of Leadership and Service, that made it possible for Anderson Cooper to be with us in San Antonio.

Monday, March 13

10:00 a.m. – 11:15 a.m.

Professor Adam Habib

Professor Adam Habib

Vice Chancellor, University of Witwatersrand, South Africa

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

The evolutionary growth postsecondary education is affected by enormous challenges and is often constrained by national politics, bureaucracy, and resource limitations that threaten the equality of the global academy. Universities across the globe have been experiencing a rise in student activism. Join Professor Habib and your colleagues in an important dialogue about how we achieve inclusive higher education and, at the same time, tackle the major challenges of inequality, public health, climate change, and many more through the power of postsecondary education.

Monday, March 13

1:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Chris Mosier

Sponsored in part by:

Chris Mosier

Team USA Athlete, Educator, LGBTQ Rights Activist

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

Chris Mosier is an athlete, coach, and educator, and the founder of TransAthlete.com. In 2015, he became the first openly trans man to make a Men's US National Team. Following the national championship race, he was instrumental in getting the International Olympic Committee policy on transgender athletes changed, and in June 2016 he became the first trans athlete to compete in a world championship race under the new rules, where he was the second fastest American man in his group. Chris is a two-time member of Team USA, representing the United States in the short course and long course duathlon, which is a run/bike/run event. He was featured in a Nike commercial which aired during the 2016 Rio Olympic Games. Chris is also a student affairs educator! Starting out his career in student affairs, Chris was an active member in the NASPA Gender and Sexuality Knowledge Community (formerly GLBT KC) and was integral in the Trans Inclusion Subcommittee that advocated for change in NASPA's policies. Join Chris for a conversation about his journey and how it connects to higher education and inclusive practices.

Bree Newsome

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

Join your colleagues for an inspirational closing session including Bree Newsome and the 2017 and 2018 conference committees!

An American filmmaker, musician, speaker, and activist, Bree scaled a 30-foot flagpole outside the state capitol in Charleston, South Carolina and removed the confederate flag that represented discrimination and racial intimidation. Bree will engage the NASPA audience in discussing how political empowerment and peaceful activism can change the world.

HERE'S TO THE CLASS OF 2017

They piled into the stands at their first home football game. They stayed up late to write that essay after their daughter went to bed. They had to choose between physics and chemistry. They called their mother every day for a month solid. They built their schedule around work. They fell asleep in the library during study group. They made their first new friend at welcome week. They skipped welcome week to see The Shins in concert three states away.

They came. They saw. They conquered. And the data their experiences provided will help shape the future of institutional excellence and college success for millions of students who come after them.

Bias-Related Incidents on Campus: Implementing Lawful and Meaningful Responses

sponsored by the National Association of College and University Attorneys

Monday, March 13, 8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

Denzil Suite, Vice President for Student Life, University of Washington

Tamra English, Senior Associate General Counsel & Managing Attorney, University of Texas

Marla Morgen, Senior Associate General Counsel, DePaul University

In an effort to build and maintain inclusive communities, most colleges and universities have bias-reporting channels in place so that aggrieved students have a venue through which they can report bias incidents and seek redress. Some allegations of bias are actionable under the law, and obligate institutions to take steps toward remedying the harm. Other allegations, although potentially involving bias, are protected forms of expression. Yet other allegations fall somewhere between these two categories. In all cases, professionals and other administrators endeavor to respond to allegations of bias in lawful and meaningful ways. This session will explore various approaches to addressing bias-related incidents. Attorneys from public and private institutions will pair with an experienced vice president of student affairs to examine, bias reporting structures at various colleges and universities; legal considerations for campus employees who address bias incidents; and proactive and responsive ways to address bias incidents other than through discipline.

The World Needs More Love Letters

Monday, March 13, 10:00 a.m. – 10:50 a.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

Join Hannah Brencher for an inspiring story. Author, TED Speaker, and online educator with a heart for building leaders, Hannah will engage the audience in her story and tell you how you can participate in this amazing opportunity to show total strangers that they are not alone in the world. Her first memoir “If You Find This Letter” came out in 2015 and is available in bookstores across the country. Since 2011, More Love Letters has spread to over 70 countries, all 50 states, and over 100 college campuses.

College Promise: Delivering the American Dream for the 21st Century

Monday, March 13, 1:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

Martha Kanter, Executive Director, College Promise Campaign

Paulette Dalpes, Deputy to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, CUNY - City University of New York

Joseph May, Chancellor, Dallas County Community College District

Elaine Leigh, Doctoral Student, University of Pennsylvania

Since President Obama announced the America’s College Promise proposal to make two years of college available at no cost to responsible college students, over 150 College Promise Programs have developed in cities and states across the nation. This presentation features key leaders in the College Promise Campaign discussing the origins, progress, results and next steps of these efforts. Specific outcome data and the effects of public/private partnerships across business, government and education will be emphasized.

Featured Educational Sessions

Strada Education Network Featured Session

Tackling Education Regret: Understanding the Consumer Voice in Higher Education

Monday, March 13, 11:15 a.m. – 12:05 p.m.

Convention Center, 206 A

Alison Griffin, Senior Vice President, External & Governmental Affairs, Strada Education Network

Stephanie Marken, Chief Methodologist, Gallup

The adage goes that everyone changes their major at least once in college, however, ground-breaking research reveals that a student's choice of major may not be the only aspect of their educational experience they wish they could change. Many U.S. adults would do things differently if given a second chance. Unfortunately, consumers typically don't get a "do-over" when it comes to education. Join Gallup and Strada Education Network to learn more about the premier education consumer research platform – the Education Consumer Pulse – and get a sneak peek of results from more than 70,000 interviews to date.

Student Personnel Point of View: 80 Years Later Where Are We Now?

Tuesday, March 14, 8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

Moderator: John Lowery, Professor and Department Chair, Indiana University of Pennsylvania

George Kuh, Chancellor's Professor Emeritus, Indiana University

Natasha Croom, Assistant Professor of Higher Education, Clemson University

Tracy Tambascia, Associate Professor of Clinical Education, University of Southern California

Laura Sponsler, Clinical Assistant Professor, University of Denver

The Student Personnel Point of View was written in 1937 with an update in 1949 and a more contemporary view in 1987. How does this seminal document connect to today's student affairs profession? How does student success and persistence in today's postsecondary education connect to these important historical documents? Join a variety of faculty for an engaging panel discussion on the student affairs profession – then and now.

The Other Side of Campus: Collaboration Between Student Affairs and Athletics

Tuesday, March 14, 11:05 a.m. – 11:55 a.m.

Convention Center, 207 A

Robert Page, Chief Diversity Officer, Metropolitan Community College-Kansas City

Ellen Heffernan, President, Spelman Johnson

Tammara Durham, Vice Provost for Student Affairs, University of Kansas

Sheahon Zenger, Director of Athletics, University of Kansas

Sam Gonzales, Vice President for Student Affairs, University of Texas at San Antonio

Lynn Hickey, Associate Vice President/Director of Athletics, University of Texas at San Antonio

Vice presidents for student affairs are charged with navigating complex processes, programs, and initiatives that support the success of all students regardless of demographics, culture, or background. Across campus student athletes frequently navigate their collegiate experience in an environment that is very different from their peers. Student athletes experience the same issues that non-student athletes face across throughout their college tenure. Athletic departments generally provide resources and services to support student athletes in areas as diverse as dining, registration, academic advising, and judicial affairs. When student affairs and athletics are collaborative partners the outcomes for all student are improved. This program will bring together student affairs and athletic administrators to identify and explore ways to collaborate and navigate best practices for the success and integration of student athletes.

Ken Tanabe Loving Day

*Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3
Tuesday, March 14, 3:30 p.m. – 4:45 p.m.*

Loving Day is named after Loving v. Virginia, the Supreme Court decision that legalized interracial marriage in the United States. It encourages people to host celebrations in honor of the case's anniversary on June 12th. Tanabe created the Loving Day concept and it has inspired hundreds of events in cities worldwide. The roots of the project are in graphic design: it began as his graduate thesis at Parsons the New School for Design. Join Tanabe and the MultiRacial Knowledge Community for an engaging conversation about the 50th Anniversary of this milestone ruling.

Master of Science in First-Year Studies

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

This fully online graduate program encompasses the theory and study of factors affecting the initial college experience, including foundations of students' transitional experiences and research on various programs that promote a successful transition. Grounded in decades of research, this is the only graduate degree program dedicated to the discipline of first-year studies.

Through an innovative curriculum, students in the Master of Science in First-Year Studies (MSFYS) graduate program develop skills and knowledge needed to create and manage curricular and co-curricular programs, and engage in research that extends the collective understanding of first-year and transition studies. The MSFYS program is designed for anyone interested in working with or teaching first-year college students, including residence hall directors, academic advisors, teaching staff, faculty, and administrators.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- 100% Online
- Only degree program in first-year studies
- Innovative curriculum and method of delivery
- Unique preparation for faculty, staff, and administrators who are interested in first-year and transition studies

Extended Learning Sessions

The Faculty Institute

Monday, March 13, 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Grand Hyatt, Lone Star EF

Tracy Tambascia, University of Southern California
Timothy Ecklund, Stony Brook University
Michele Smith, Missouri State University
Erika Yamamura, Seattle University

The Faculty Institute will give faculty participants an opportunity to engage in discussion with peers about how we can best manage difficult discussions in our classes, and how to support and mentor a new generation of professionals who may face not only student activism but also personal conflict with their own roles with supporting university goals and student needs. The Institute will begin with a panel of speakers and include one to two breakout discussion sessions. Faculty attending the Institute will gain new perspective on the broader issues of social and political change and its impact on higher education across the country, identify strategies for managing difficult discourse in their classes and discuss and evaluate different approaches from faculty peers for supporting and mentoring young professions during this time of activism and political change.

How Leaders Can Use Innovation to Re-engineer Student Affairs to Meet the Challenge of the Future

Monday, March 13, 2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Convention Center, 206 A

Laurence B. Smith, New Campus Dynamics
Albert B. Blixt, New Campus Dynamics

This session is especially designed for student affairs executives who want to lead transformational innovation to build a thriving, future focused student affairs enterprise. This action packed, interactive session will provide participants with leadership strategies, tools and techniques for creating an Innovation Hub that will support a steady stream of new thinking and solutions for doing more with less while dealing with persistent problems and new possibilities and expectations.

Participants will learn how innovation and re-engineering principles can be best applied to higher education. The session will cover the most promising innovation domains for student affairs as well as academic and administrative affairs. Participants will have access to online tools to help them establish an Innovation Hub and to institutionalize innovation into the student affairs and campus cultures.

Taking Care of the Activist in You

Monday, March 13, 2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Marriott Rivercenter, Grand Ballroom Salon E

Adriana Di Bartolo, Vassar College
Salvador Mena, Rutgers University

More than ever before student affairs professionals are being challenged with striking a balance between their personal commitments to addressing social justice issues and serving as institutional agents. The tension between being a social activist and a college administrator is one that can lead to dissonance for student affairs practitioners trying to establish their personal and professional identities, especially for newer professionals. The recent presidential election and continuing racial tensions across the country have further highlighted the unique challenges faced by student affairs professionals as they strive to be responsive to students, their institutions, and to addressing issues of inequality in society. This program session will provide a space to explore this tension and identify ways to “take care of the activist in you.”

Extended Session for Vice Presidents, Chief Diversity Officers, and Provosts

Forging a Collaborative Path for Inclusion and Change in Higher Education: Responding to Student Activism in an Era of Heightened Uncertainty

Tuesday, March 14, 2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Grand Hyatt, Texas D

Salvador Mena, Rutgers University

Shaun Harper, University of Pennsylvania

Felicia McGinty, Rutgers University

Patricia Whitely, University of Miami

Lori White, Washington University in St. Louis

The current landscape for diversity, and inclusion in higher education, calls for collaborative partnerships to enhance the student experience and help foster environments of inclusion for students, faculty, and staff. The last several years have ushered in a new era of social activism on campuses throughout the country raising the stakes for how colleges and universities respond to the needs of historically marginalized communities while preserving learning environments where the free exchange of ideas can occur without censorship. The outcomes of the recent national elections have contributed to a heightened state of uncertainty for institutions of higher education. This daylong program and two-hour extended session will provide senior institutional leaders with the opportunity to critically examine the state-of-diversity and inclusion in higher education, and to identify strategic collaborative approaches for addressing current and emerging challenges.

Extended Session – Knowledge Community Sponsored

Intersections of Identity: Preparing College Educators for Important Conversations

Wednesday, March 15, 8:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

Convention Center, 206 B

Brian Medina, Frostburg State University

Erica Zamora, Southern Methodist University

Intersectionality is a term that refers to one's multiple and layered identities. We want to provide a space to prepare educators for, the sometimes challenging yet extremely important, conversations as one explores the intersections of identity in higher education. Several Knowledge Community leaders have come together to create a toolkit demonstration to prepare educators to engage in this space. Join us for a session in conversation, practice, and exploration.

Online Interventions for Behavior Change

- ✓ Student self-administered
- ✓ Customized to your campus
- ✓ $975 or less per year for most programs
- ✓ Used alone or as a booster to existing programming
- ✓ Named highly effective and lower cost by NIAAA
- ✓ Used by over 600 campuses internationally

As college support staff ourselves, we understand the importance of creating affordable, effective programs for the benefit of our students. We are uniquely able to apply evidence-based interventions that adhere to best practices and external requirements (such as the Campus SaVE Act). We understand who students are, what campuses need to provide, and how to bring the two together simply and skillfully.

SA Speaks

Monday, March 13

3:30 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. | Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

I Am Generation Z

Teri Bump, American Campus Communities

Generation Z is here and they are NOT the millennials! This talk will be a fast-paced, dynamic overview of everything you need to know about working with the newest generation of college students. This group is less brand-conscious, more frugal and they want a different experience in college than their older brothers and sisters. They trust individuals more than big institutions and they care about hearing the story behind each company. Is your campus ready for the Hunger Games generation??

A Radically Candid Perspective on Student Affairs

Will Simpkins, CUNY John Jay College Criminal Justice

“Radical Candor” is a trend in supervision management that means saying what you think. I think student affairs professionals must recognize the harm we inflict on low SES students. For too long, we have looked for ways to include poor students, or even blamed poor students for the poor decisions that keep them from fully engaging on campus. We must realize that our programs were built for a student body that does not exist on many campuses. It is time for a radical revision of student affairs.

Mi Latinidad: The Influence of Latinx Identity on Our Profession

Juan Guardia, University of Cincinnati

Holistic development plays an integral role in our work with college students. Utilizing Jones and McEwen (2000) Model of Multiple Dimensions of Identity, this presentation will focus on how one's Latinx identity serves as the core in relation to other salient identities and ultimately how it informs their work in higher education and student affairs.

Whoever I Am Wherever I Am

Laci Lee Adams, Georgia State University

A pastor by training and an activist by avocation, Laci Lee Adams speaks on the unique contributions that her theological education, direct-action experience, commitment to social justice, and queer critical theoretical perspective brings to her work as a student affairs professional. She encourages us to consider “who we are where we are” in order to embrace new perspectives and cultivate more complex ways of knowing in response to a changing cultural landscape.

Critical Hope: Higher Education: Reflections on Empowering Students Working for Change

Alejandro Covarrubias, University of San Francisco

Hope... At a time when our country and our campuses are struggling to find solidarity and fight systemic injustices, we are asking our student to maintain hope for a better tomorrow. But are we giving our students the tools to turn their hopes into realities? This SA Speaks invites the audience into a critique of the false hopes narratives we sometimes give students and uses the Critical Hope framework by Jeffery Duncan-Andrade as a pathway to empowering our students to create tangible change in their lives.

SA Speaks

Tuesday, March 14

10:30 a.m. – 11:45 a.m. | Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

Being an Outsider in an Insider Profession

Romando Nash, San Jose State University

Student affairs is a profession of insiders. How then does a professional without a degree in higher education navigate being an outsider in this insider profession? This SA Speaks sheds light on the experiences of an outsider at the intersection of introversion, and ways we advance our work when we welcome outsiders and introverts into the fold.

Incorporating Feminist Praxis Into Supervising #SApros

Chelsea Fullerton, Lehigh University

As student affairs professionals, we are called upon to not only incorporate justice into our work with students, but also with our colleagues; supervision is no exception. Much supervision literature, however, is not grounded in the principles of inclusion upon which our profession is built. Using an intersectional feminist lens, let's explore together what student affairs supervision could be, and reflect upon how we might incorporate this feminist praxis into work with our colleagues each day.

The Shawshank Effect on Student Affairs

Laura De Veau, Mount Ida College

"The Shawshank Redemption" brings together two men, one thoughtful and hopeful, and the other, pragmatic and hardened. As a seasoned SAPro, I have seen times where my colleagues become as they say at Shawshank, "institutionalized." People on the "outside" have strengthened my "inside" life. This presentation is for those who have helped me break through the walls, and let the outside onto my campus and into my way of being.

Assumptions? Don't Make Them.

Juhi Bhatt, Rutgers University

We have all grown up assuming certain things to be true. We learned these ideas from our families, our friends, our educators. But what really happens when we make assumptions about others? What impact does that have on the individual? As student affairs professionals it is important that we recognize the assumptions we hold to be true and how we must actively try to not make them about our colleagues and our students.

Other No More

Ana Rossetti, Illinois Institute of Technology

U.S. higher education has long operated on the notion that White identity, as the historical majority, is the experience to which institutions should be normed. Within 10 years, colleges and universities across the country will enroll a greater proportion of students of color and multiracial students than ever before. We, in student affairs, must dismantle minority-oriented systems and take inclusion to a new level, ensuring that our students are no longer relegated to labels like "other."

SA Speaks

Tuesday, March 14

3:30 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. | Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

Fighting Student Apathy With Free Hugs

Tom Krieglstein, Swift Kick

With 30% of students dropping out or transferring within their first year, how we connect with our students to help them feel welcomed, connected, and engaged to the campus' culture is critical to student retention rates. Follow the journey of how each micro action from campus leaders either adds to, or takes away from, building a strong culture of engagement. Ultimately, we are better together as #TeamHuman.

Stop Telling Me to “Have Class,” “Be Classy,” or “Act Professional”: How the Higher Education Environment Discredits & Degrades Poor and Working Class Folks

Sonja Ardoin, Boston University

Does the call to “have some class” really mean “adhere to the middle or upper class expectations, values, and behaviors of the academy?” Professionalism can be used as a way to discredit and degrade poor and working class ways of thinking and being. Lubrano (2004) describes class as a “script, map, and guide ... how to talk, how to dress, how to eat, and how to socialize” (p. 5). Join this session to learn more about how class identity can impact one's experience in higher education.

#BlackLivesMatter: The Time to Create Change is Now!

David E. Jones, Rutgers University

Continued horrific episodes of racism against black and brown bodies in America has significantly impacted college students and their campuses. The time is now to create change where colleges and universities can intentionally and authentically demonstrate that black lives matter. This talk will draw attention to recent events of racism and how student affairs professionals must do more to speak up and speak out against racial injustice in order to create meaningful and equitable change.

Doing the Tough Work on the Long Journey Toward Socially Just Praxis

Annemarie Vaccaro, University of Rhode Island

Social justice and inclusion are essential competencies for student affairs professionals. But, how, and how effectively, professionals practice inclusion and socially justice is sometimes a mystery. In this talk Dr. Annemarie Vaccaro will discuss the importance of professionals at all stages of their careers infusing social justice into daily practice. She will offer strategies and share reflections and lessons learned from her own ongoing social justice journey.

Forget the Shiny Object, Design Ways to Connect Instead

Laura Pasquini, University of North Texas

Forget the shiny object. With the affordances and opportunities technology provides higher ed, it is imperative our institutions consider how innovations and pedagogical practices impact educational outcomes. Student affairs professionals need to leverage technology that is sustainable and actually supports our students. Designing ways to scaffold student develop and deliver effective learning is not just for the classroom. Stop liking, tweeting, and favoriting to design and let's make real connections at our campuses.

VPSA and Fraternal Partners Conversation on the Future of Fraternity and Sorority Life

Saturday, March 11, 8:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Convention Center, 217 B

During this meeting, we will bring together Vice Presidents for Student Affairs, national fraternity and sorority executives, and representatives from a range of umbrella groups to address some of the cyclical issues that we share regarding the well-being of our fraternity/sorority communities. A facilitator will guide participants toward an open dialogue to identify areas of shared concern over complex issues around student involvement in fraternity and sorority life. Prior registration for this VPSA-exclusive full-day meeting is required and includes breakfast and lunch. This event is sponsored by the NASPA Fraternity and Sorority Knowledge Community, the North-American Interfraternity Conference, Inc., the National Panhellenic Conference Inc., the National Pan-Hellenic Council Inc., the National Association of Latino Fraternal Organizations, and the National APIDA Panhellenic Association.

Exploring the Presidency

Saturday, March 11, 1:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Marriott Riverwalk, Alamo Ballroom Salon A

Exploring the Presidency will bring together executive search experts, sitting college presidents, and VPSAs who aspire to (or are undecided about) the presidency for some informative and frank discussion about what it takes to become and how to be successful as the campus CEO. Prior registration for this VPSA-exclusive mini-institute is required. Additional fee required. Exploring the Presidency is sponsored by Spelman Johnson, Witt/Kieffer Executive Search, and Gold Hill Associates.

NASPA Vice Presidents for Student Affairs Institute

Sunday, March 12, 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Marriott Riverwalk, Alamo Ballroom Salon C

During this pre-conference workshop, vice presidents for student affairs (or the equivalent) will participate in interactive sessions focused on the changing higher education environment, innovations in the careers enterprise on campus, effective relationships with governing bodies, and the dramatic increase of student unrest on college campuses. Guest speakers and guided open discussions will allow participants to discuss high-level topics with colleagues who are managing similar issues on their campuses. Prior registration for this VPSA-exclusive full-day pre-conference workshop is required and includes lunch. Additional fee required. The NASPA Vice Presidents for Student Affairs Institute is sponsored by the James E. Scott Academy and OOH LALA Mobile.

Navigating the NASPA Annual Conference as a VPSA

Sunday, March 12, 4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Forging a Collaborative Path for Inclusion and Change in Higher Education: Responding to Student Activism in an Era of Heightened Uncertainty

Tuesday, March 14, 2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Grand Hyatt, Texas D

The current landscape for diversity, and inclusion in higher education, calls for collaborative partnerships to enhance the student experience and help foster environments of inclusion for students, faculty, and staff. The last several years have ushered in a new era of social activism on campuses throughout the country raising the stakes for how colleges and universities respond to the needs of historically marginalized communities while preserving learning environments where the free exchange of ideas can occur without censorship. The outcomes of the recent national elections have contributed to a heightened state of uncertainty for institutions of higher education. This two-hour extended session will provide senior institutional leaders with the opportunity to examine critically the state-of-diversity and inclusion in higher education, and to identify strategic collaborative approaches for addressing current and emerging challenges.

FULL-DAY PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS
9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

PC 3 Small and Mighty: Critical Opportunities and Issues Facing Small Colleges and Universities

Convention Center, 221 A

Anna Gonzalez, Lewis & Clark College
Mamta Accapadi, Rollins College
Laura Hutchinson, Earlham College
Carolyn Livingston, Carleton College
Damon Sloan, University of St. Francis
Zauyah Waite, Chatham University

Thriving in the small college culture requires flexibility, collaboration and the ability to shift within the rapidly changing environment of higher education. Successful leaders know that understanding the emerging trends and responding creatively is key to meeting the challenges. This session invites senior and mid-level staff to address critical issues affecting small colleges and universities. Experts will present on topics that will enable participants to take back to their campuses innovative solutions to pressing issues.

PC 4 Leading From the Unique Role of the AVP/Number Two

Convention Center, 221 B

Daniel Maxwell, University of Houston
Alysson Satterlund, California State University, San Bernardino
Michele Yovanovich, Florida Gulf Coast University
AVPs serve a unique role in the student affairs organizational structure. They are viewed as both an executive level leader and a middle manager. The AVP presenters will draw on both of these constructs utilizing the NASPA Publication, AVP: Leading from the unique role of associate/assistant vice president for student affairs. Participants are strongly encouraged to read the book ahead of time as a true value added component to the pre-conference.

PC 6 Avoiding Overload: Project Management and Productivity Strategies to Organize, Execute, and Succeed as a Leader

Convention Center, 221 D

Erica Eckert, Kent State University
Gregory Sammons, Alfred State College
Effective administrators carefully plan and prioritize projects and track/report what they accomplish. This session focuses on tools and techniques you can use to be more effective and efficient. The morning session will focus on project and time management at a macro, micro, and personal level. The afternoon session will focus on reducing information overload through better managing email, meetings, and other sources of administrative noise. Participants will leave with a plan to get more done and communicate organizational impact.

MORNING HALF-DAY PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS
9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

PC 7A Racialized Aggressions and Social Media on Campus: Examining the Inventory, Typology, and Neutralization of Online Racism

Convention Center, 006 D

Kevin Gin, Boston College
Heather Rowan-Kenyon, Boston College
Ana Martinez-Aleman, Boston College
Adam McCready, Boston College
Racialized aggressions on today's college campuses have shifted to online settings and have proliferated on social media platforms, causing concern for student affairs administrators. This pre-conference summarizes the current state of racism on social media, examines an inventory and typology of racialized aggressions on social media, and offers suggestions regarding how practitioners can counter racialized aggressions on their campuses. This session is made possible by the NASPA Channing Briggs Small Research Grant.

PC 8 Introduction to Fund-Seeking and Grant-Getting for Student Affairs Practitioners

Convention Center, 225 B

Elizabeth Boretz, California State University, Fullerton
Cris Powell, California State University, Fullerton
External funds are out there! Hear from an experienced student affairs professional who learned to capture millions of dollars to create innovative programs on her own by partnering, risk-taking and seeking opportunities. Presenters provide introductory, step by step training to identify your needs and potential funders, methods for creating persuasive proposals tailored to granting or gifting sources, and how to navigate internal and external channels and partnerships.

PC 9 Students With Autism: Inclusion Begins With Understanding

Convention Center, 225 C

Lee Williams, Mansfield Hall
Bradley Cox, Florida State University
Chase Breeden, Florida State University
Colleges and universities are seeing an increase in the number of students with diagnoses of Autism/Asperger's Syndrome. These students bring with them both remarkable talents and resilience as well as social, behavioral and communication challenges that can complicate their campus experience. Participants will learn about Autism, its common characteristics and how those may be problematic, and how a campus can become a more inclusive place for students on the Spectrum.

PC 10 Models for the Integration of Health and Counseling Services

Convention Center, 225 D

Richard Keeling, Keeling & Associates, LLC
Gage Paine, Keeling & Associates, LLC
Sandra Johnson, Rochester Institute of Technology
Eleanor Daugherty, University of Connecticut
Integration of health and counseling services requires the blending and synergy of both administrative and cultural aspects of centers; disciplines, traditions and norms, service models, organizational structures, funding sources, and documentation and record management require attention. Integration can take many forms, and there is no single blueprint for making it work. In this session, presenters will review and discuss a range of organizational and cultural models for the successful integration of health and counseling services.

PC 11 Supervision Across Racial Identities: Tools for Identity Conscious Practices

Convention Center, 006 A

Robert Brown, Northwestern University
Shruti Desai, McKendree University
Craig Elliott, Samuel Merritt University
Student affairs professionals often supervise at some point in their career, but rarely receive skill building around supervision and management. Professional development is often focused on skill building in functional areas yet often ignores the lived experiences of racism and hostility in the workplace that prevent learning and growth. Presenters will guide participants in redefining professional development to include both skill building and healing utilizing an identity conscious framework.

PC 12 Facilitating Coordinated and Effective (and Fun!) Assessment in Student Affairs

Convention Center, 006 B

Melissa Flowers, Trinity University
Jamie Thompson, Trinity University
Erica Eckert, Kent State University
Student affairs professionals are increasingly expected to engage in assessment activities to justify resources and identify strategic objectives, but many individuals lack time, motivation, or even skills to carry out these tasks. Come to this session to learn how one institution, Trinity University, overcame these challenges and created a NASPA Excellence Award-winning assessment initiative. Leave with practical assessment resources and strategies designed to make assessment fun and engaging.

AFTERNOON HALF-DAY
PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS
1:00 PM - 4:00 PM

PC 13 Thriving in the Sea of Adversity: Fundraising in Challenging Times

Convention Center, 006 B
Tamara Himmelstein, Occidental College
Sophie Penney, Penn State University
With federal investigations, institutional scandals, and campus unrest happening across colleges and universities nationwide, advancement offices often struggle with donor relations. Can advancement goals succeed despite such challenges? Facilitators will use principles of crisis management and case studies to prepare professionals to develop skills to respond to these issues while fundraising. Participate in this interactive workshop to develop strategies on how to effectively fundraise on your campus during formidable times.

PC 14 Transforming Orientation, Transition and Retention Programs to Support the Success of All Students

Convention Center, 225 B
Joyce Holl, NODA
Shawn Smee, Murray State University
This interactive workshop will focus on helping participants identify the issues they need to address in orientation, transition and retention (OTR) programming while assisting them in creating an action plan to address these issues. Specifically it will focus on the development and delivery of programs and learning experiences during student transitions. The workshop will introduce best practices as well as research and assessment findings to guide OTR practice.

PC 16 Educating for Active Citizenship:
Developing an Action Plan for Increasing Democratic Engagement

Convention Center, 225 C
Zaneeta Daver, Civic Nation
Catherine Fish, Civic Nation
Adam Gismondi, Tufts University
Marissa Corrente, Rollins College
Michael Burns, Fair Elections Legal Network
Clarissa Unger, Young Invincibles
Developing an action plan can help turn vision into reality, and increase efficiency and accountability. In this workshop, participants will begin to develop and lay the foundation for an action plan which describes how their campuses can improve democratic engagement, increase student voter participation rates, and graduate students with a lifelong commitment to being informed and active citizens. This session is ideal for NASPA Voter Friendly Campus Designation and ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge participants.

PC 17 Tackling Big Challenges for Big Results
With Student Affairs & Academic Affairs Partnerships

Convention Center, 225 D
Jemilia Davis, North Carolina State University
Karen Boyd, The University of Tennessee, Knoxville
Tony Cawthon, Clemson University
Kirk Robinson, Miami University, Ohio
Christina Wright-Fields, Indiana University Bloomington
Leah Howell, Bowling Green University
In a time where higher education is under much scrutiny, college student educators, despite their affiliation, are called to implement partnerships that tackle big challenges. This pre-conference workshop explores collegiate professional subcultures, discusses the skills necessary to navigate, improve, and sustain student-academic affairs collaborations and highlights exemplary partnerships at institutions to assist participants in developing an action plan for big results at their home institutions.

PC 18 Integrating Critical Perspectives Into Leadership Development

Convention Center, 006 A
John Dugan, Loyola University Chicago
Natasha Turman, Loyola University Chicago
Amy Barnes, The Ohio State University
Leadership development provides the foundation for how leadership is enacted in our communities and organizations. However, all too often leadership theory becomes a site of marginalization based on its content and history. This interactive workshop advances an innovative approach drawing on pedagogies that more fully realize goals of equity and justice. Participants will actively engage in the process of theoretical deconstruction and reconstruction modeling the infusion of critical perspectives into leadership education.

PC 19 In Our Own Words: Black Student Affairs Professionals Examine Personal and Work-Related Stressors and Identify Culturally Appropriate Self-
Care Strategies

Offsite, Trinity University
Raphael Moffett, Texas Southern University
Dhanfu Elston, Complete College America
The In Our Own Words' pre-conference workshop is designed to encourage Black student affairs professionals to live healthier lives through holistic wellness as we encourage and support Black students to do the same. Participants will join professionals in a critical analysis of increasing knowledge of health-related issues that impact the short and long term health of Black working professionals. Presenters will provide empirical evidence with practical experience to better understand self-care outcomes for Black student affairs professionals.

PC 20 Positive Psychology: A Framework To Develop & Increase Career Success

Convention Center, 006 D
Jill Stratton, Washington University in St Louis
Jenna Lindbo, Freelance Artist
What brings you alive? When do you thrive? Based on the idea that our lives are more than our work, and our work is more than our jobs, this pre-conference workshop encourages participants to identify and explore their passions, strengths, and activities in which they thrive. By utilizing evidence-based research in positive psychology as a framework, participants will learn specific strategies to identify, increase, and sustain both happiness and success in their professional lives.

PC 15 Exploring the Presidency

1:00 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.
Marriott Riverwalk, Alamo Ballroom Salon A

The NASPA Research and Policy Institute's 2015 VPSA Census found that more than one-fourth of vice presidents for student affairs (or equivalent) indicated a desire to become a college or university president, with almost an equal number undecided about such a career step. If you're in either of these groups, this three-hour mini-institute is for you. Exploring the Presidency will bring together executive search experts, sitting college presidents, and VPSAs who aspire to (or are undecided about) the presidency for some informative and frank discussion about what it takes to become and how to be successful as the campus CEO. This mini-institute is limited to the most senior student affairs officer on campus.

Extended Pre-Conference Workshops

Saturday, 8:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Sunday, 8:00 a.m. - 2:30 p.m.

PC 1 Undergraduate Student Pre-conference

Offsite, University of Texas San Antonio

Valronica Scales, Washington University in St. Louis

In this highly interactive two-day session; undergraduate students will have an opportunity to learn more about student affairs as a possible career choice and network with their future colleagues.

Saturday, 4:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Sunday, 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

PC 2 NASPA International Symposium

Marriott Rivercenter, Grand Ballroom Salon AB

The NASPA International Symposium facilitates the advancement of a global discussion and worldwide understanding of student affairs as a field, and, in many countries, a profession. A key Symposium goal is to invite and explore new perspectives, and to create new connections in order to bridge global boundaries.

Saturday, 12:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Sunday, 8:00 a.m. - 4:15 p.m.

PC 25 NASPA Community Colleges Institute (CCI)

Grand Hyatt, Presidio BC

The CCI is a pre-conference workshop that allows staff and faculty to learn from and engage with one another on a variety of critical issues affecting student affairs professionals in the community college setting. For our 2017 conference in San Antonio, we are thrilled to offer a number of concurrent sessions presented by our members. The CCI will provide participants with proven tools and strategies to accelerate the development of a campus climate and culture that supports the personal and academic success of the full range of students on campus.

FULL-DAY PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS
9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

PC 21 APPEX: Asian Pacific Islander Promoting Educational Excellence

Convention Center, 006 D

Hikaru Kozuma, University of Pennsylvania

Julie Wong, California State University, East Bay

Sue Ann Huang, University of Washington

Kristen Wong, Pennsylvania State University
APPEX is a pre-conference session designed to address the professional and leadership development of Asian American/Pacific Islander (API) student affairs professionals. Through in-depth interactions, the 11th annual pre-conference will focus on facilitating a career pipeline for Asian American/Pacific Islander graduate students, new and mid-level professionals by providing tools to guide their development. Presenters will address current API issues related to leadership development, intersections of identities, and career growth.

PC 22 NASPA Vice Presidents for Student Affairs Institute

Marriott Riverwalk, Alamo Ballroom Salon C

James Stascavage, NASPA

During this pre-conference workshop, vice presidents for student affairs (or the equivalent) will participate in interactive sessions focused on the changing higher education environment, innovations in the careers enterprise on campus, Student Affairs and Advancement partnerships, and the dramatic increase of student unrest on college campuses. Guest speakers and guided open discussions will allow participants to discuss high-level topics with colleagues who are managing similar issues on their campuses.

PC 23 African American Male Summit

Grand Hyatt, Texas A

Robert Page, Metropolitan Community College, Kansas City

Kevin Bailey, University of West Florida

Ainsley Carry, University of Southern California

Jamie Washington, Washington Consulting Group

Anthony Ross, California State University, Los Angeles

Michael Cuyjet, University of Louisville

Thomas Parham, University of California, Irvine

This Summit provides professional development, fellowship and networking for African American men in student affairs. This is achieved through dialogue using the NASPA/ACPA Professional Competency areas. Focusing on these competencies help define the broad professional knowledge, skills, and attitudes expected of student affairs professionals. Presenters will engage participants in an assessment of their goals and a starting point for their personal professional plan for their career.

PC 24 African American Women's Summit - Navigating Campus Climate: Identifying Ideas, Challenges and Opportunities

Grand Hyatt, Texas B

Bettina Shuford, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Crasha Townsend, Radford University

Carmen Taylor, California State University, Long Beach

Nicole West, University of South Florida

Danita Brown Young, University of Minnesota-Twin Cities

Bernadette Buchanan, Texas Lutheran University

Rhonda Lovelace, Philander Smith College

Danielle Davis, Texas A & M University-Commerce

The wave of student activism and social movements demanding change for a more inclusive campus environment, legislative rulings that differentially impact members of the campus community and political polarization that leaves no room for common ground are just a few factors that impact the campus climate in which African American women administrators navigate. This interactive summit allows participants to engage one another, panelists, and facilitators through small and large group forums led by senior-level administrators.

PC 26 Decreasing Stress and Anxiety While Fostering Resilience and Creativity

Convention Center, 221 A

Marilee Bresciani Ludvik, San Diego State University

Anne Hopkins Gross, SUNY Cobleskill

Student affairs professionals and the students they serve experience profound stress and anxiety. Research has shown negative impacts of stress on well-being and cognitive performance. Presenters will introduce effective practices that are research-based and no-cost ways for stress and anxiety and increase resilience and creativity. Participants will leave with a tool kit of practices for their own use as well as ideas of how to embed these practices into their work with students.

PC 27 Using and Understanding the NASPA Indigenous Protocol and Indigenizing our Institutions

Convention Center, 221 B

Alejandro Magana, Northwestern University

The Indigenous Peoples Knowledge Community (IPKC) recommended that NASPA create policy and practice that improves the climate of its meetings, events, and conferences by developing an official Indigenous Protocol Practice Policy. The intention of the policy to promulgate an understanding of the importance of protocol when dealing with local Indigenous communities. This program will allow the IPKC membership to workshop its use within NASPA and their Institutions.

PC 28 The Future and Growth of Graduate and Professional Student Affairs

Offsite, University of the Incarnate Word at the Feik School of Pharmacy

Dana Bozeman, Loyola University Chicago

Ryan Kasmier, Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey

Mimi Beck, University of Notre Dame

Amy Diepenbrock, University of the Incarnate Word

Katherine Hall-Hertel, UNC Charlotte

Christine Wilson, UCLA

Administrators in graduate and professional student services work with students who face many obstacles and challenges unique to graduate student life. This full-day pre-conference will focus on future practices and trends in the support and service of graduate and professional students. The pre-conference will look more closely at: creating a higher ed curriculum to support this population, building healthy communities, student voice and activism, support for oppressed identities, and the five year outlook for our field.

PC 29 Latin@s in Higher Education Institute: Lighting the Torch for the Leaders of Tomorrow

Convention Center, 221 D

Delmy Lendof, New York University

Juan Carlos Matos, Fordham University

Sara Mata, University of Oklahoma

Joel Perez, Whittier College

An opportunity to inspire Latin@ professionals to consider senior leadership roles including but not limited to directors, vice presidents, chancellors and presidents. A full day session offering a support network to aspiring Latin@ leaders through interactive discussions about culturally relevant topics, leadership and career development, networking and fellowship opportunities among Latin@ professionals in different roles in higher education institutions around the country. Lunch will be included in this workshop.

MORNING HALF-DAY PRE-CONFERENCE
WORKSHOPS
9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

PC 30 Writing for Professional Publication: A NASPA Journals-Sponsored Intensive Writing Workshop

Convention Center, 221 C

Amy Bergerson, University of Utah

Sharon Aiken-Wisniewski, University of Utah

Matt Wawrzynski, Michigan State University

Writing for publication is an important skill for student affairs practitioners, doctoral students, and faculty. This intensive writing workshop introduces authors new to professional writing to the processes of writing for publication in professional journals. Primary goals for this workshop are to help emerging writers identify topics, discover tools for facilitating the writing process, and understand the publication process. Participants engage in free writing during the workshop and leave the session with a writing action plan.

PC 31 Incorporating Digital Tools Into Your Departmental Marketing

Convention Center, 225 B

Matt Cummings, DePauw University

Brittany Collins, DePauw University

With the recent implementation of the Technology Professional Competency Area, join the presenters who will help you navigate various platforms to market, promote, and engage with students online. Using platforms like Facebook, Instagram, Mailchimp, Canva, Piktochart, and many others, the presenters will teach you how to utilize digital tools to increase the capacity of your departmental marketing and event promotion. Participants will develop skills using online platforms involved with graphic design, marketing, and basic analytics. Both presenters will discuss how to develop student leaders for your center to carry out your center's digital action plan. To fully participate in the workshop you must bring your laptop and begin to learn new digital skills focusing on graphic design, social media marketing, and analysis.

PC 32 Financial Wellness Personalized: Applications and Self-Exploration for the Student Affairs Professional

Convention Center, 225 C

Morgan McMillan, Indiana University

Paola Hernandez Baron, Indiana University

Phil Schuman, Indiana University

During this complimentary workshop, participants will gain knowledge and tools to better understand the intersection between finances, mental health, and overall well-being from both the practitioners' lens and working with students. Theoretical models will also be addressed through student development theory and practical applications of concepts including discussion regarding financial literacy such as budgeting, credit, debt repayment, savings, and retirement.

PC 34 The Role of New and Mid-Level Professionals in Building and Maintaining a Culture of Evidence in Student Affairs

Convention Center, 206 A

Marguerite Culp, Maggie Culp Consulting

Led by Dr. Maggie Culp, author of Building a Culture of Evidence in Student Affairs, this data-based, interactive workshop offers participants an opportunity to assess their culture of evidence knowledge and skill sets, their institution's progress in implementing a culture of evidence, assessment strategies used by innovative colleges and universities, and the steps they—and their institutions—must take to move forward.

PC 35 Aspiring AVP or "Number Two" Pre-Conference Institute

Convention Center, 206 B

Keegan Nichols, Fort Hays State University

Art Munin, Illinois State University

Eric Grospitch, Washburn University

Jay Lambert, University of Houston Victoria

As student affairs educators, the role of the assistant/associate vice president, or the "number two", is critical to advancing the profession. The presenters will cover four primary topics crucial for those who aspire to become an AVP, touching on the intricacies of shifting from the mindset of a director to that of an AVP. Finally, the session will offer specific professional development advice to all participants on how to garner skills and experience to be successful as an AVP. This pre-conference institute is geared towards those who aspire to be AVPs in student affairs.

PC 37 Proactive and Responsive Communication With Parents & Families on College Campuses

Convention Center, 006 A

Alexandra Brown, University of California, Los Angeles

Angela Watson, Bay Path University

Branka Kristic, Hofstra University

Jennifer Mallen, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Brian Watkins, University of Maryland

Brett Bruner, Fort Hays State University

The university experience is not one many students embark on alone; today's students often have parents and family members in tow who are concerned about their students' safety, well-being, and success. Student affairs administrators across departments find themselves interfacing with this constituency from basic questions to more complex issues like Title IX protocol. Expert speakers representing several institutions will share provide tools and tips for attendees in their approach to communicating to parents and families.

PC 38 Design Thinking: Creating Big Ideas From Big Challenges

Convention Center, 006 B

Greg Bish, Gordon College

Eileen Hulme, Azusa Pacific University

Student services professionals are being challenged to reimagine and redesign their programs and services. During this session, participants will explore the tools needed to move beyond traditional surface level changes through the Design Thinking process. Presenters will provide hands-on activities to teach the fundamentals of the process including empathizing, defining, ideating, and prototyping. Participants will leave prepared to lead their departments in meaningful change processes.

PC 39 The Great Juggling Act: Student Affairs Moms' Quests for Work-life Integration

Convention Center, 006 C

Leanna Fenneberg, Saint Louis University

Jemilia Davis, North Carolina State University

Lisa Israel, Saint Louis University

Alexandria White, University of Mississippi

Women in student affairs experience considerable demands of time and energy. Pairing those demands with responsibilities as a mom creates the ultimate balancing act. This opportunity provides student affairs moms (or aspiring moms) brave space to focus on you, knowing you can't effectively serve others until you care for yourself. Tips informed by literature and perspectives from student affairs moms with varied professional and personal experiences will frame opportunities for reflection to improve your individual quest for work-life integration.

PC 40 The Intersections of Campus Safety and Social Justice

Convention Center, 007 A

Christina Wan, Georgia State University
Bill Haggard, University of North Carolina, Asheville

Allan Ford, Northeastern State University
Jonathon Hyde, Louisiana State University
Student affairs educators must be understand the intersections of diversity, inclusion, and social justice when developing and implementing campus safety initiatives, compliance, and legal issues. Presenters will provide an overview of the intersections of campus safety and social justice by examining public policy, a case study analysis, and a discussion of prevention strategies.

PC 41 Fraternity and Sorority Life: Big Leadership for Big Change

Convention Center, 207 A

Kathryn Cavins-Tull, Texas Christian University
Bernie Schulz, East Carolina University
Jeffrey Waple, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville

Janna Basler, University of Missouri
One of the greatest assets and liabilities in the student affairs portfolio is Fraternity and Sorority Life. Research on the effects of involvement in Greek organizations is often complex and competing. More than ever, colleges and universities are compelled to align the practices and culture of fraternal chapters to the mission and values of the university. Presenters will share research and data to guide discussion on change for college and university Greek programs.

AFTERNOON HALF-DAY PRE-CONFERENCE
WORKSHOPS
1:00 PM - 4:00 PM

PC 43 Leading From Self: Identity Conscious & Multi-Partial Facilitation in Social Justice Education

Convention Center, 006 A

Michele Enos, Northwestern University
Khaled Ismail, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Social identities play a critical role in a facilitator's effectiveness when leading workshops on social justice and inclusion. Presenters will introduce participants to identity conscious and multi-partial facilitation. Participants will examine the role their social identities play in facilitating effective workshops, develop an understanding of how to challenge dominant narratives in inter-group dialogue, and acquire practical skills to move critical social justice conversations forward with students, staff, and faculty.

PC 45 From Good to Great: Strengths-Based Coaching for Mid-Level Management Success

Convention Center, 225 C

Shadia Sachedina, Fashion Institute of Technology

Deanne DeCrescenzo, Baruch College, CUNY
As a mid-level student affairs professional, do you find yourself frustrated by work challenges that prevent you from reaching your maximum potential? Gallup's strengths-based development program can help cultivate your talents to improve engagement, productivity, and be your best. Gallup-Certified strengths coaches will help you realize your talents, develop leadership skills, and create a plan to leverage your strengths to achieve results. Additional individual strengths coaching will be available throughout the conference.

PC 46 Engaging Student Activists for Positive Social Change

Convention Center, 225 B

Penny Rue, Wake Forest University
Marianne Magjuka, Wake Forest University
Tim Wilkinson, Wake Forest University

Students are a powerful force for change on colleges across the country. In this session, we will explore the relationship between student affairs professionals and student activists and develop strategies for engaging effectively in social change. We will share best practices, discuss personal experiences with student activism, examine case studies, and share strategies for navigating activism on the ground. This is a highly interactive session with significant opportunity for discussion.

PC 47 NASPA Lead Initiative at Five: Reflection, Implementation, and Strategic Planning

Convention Center, 207 A

Stephanie Reynolds, NASPA
Laura Sponsler, University of Denver

Jess Belue Buckley, University of Louisville
Intended for NASPA Lead Initiative campuses, past, present and hopeful, participants can expect to learn about the NASPA Lead Initiative and the narrative of Civic Learning and Democratic Engagement in higher education. Through conversations and skill-building, participants will gain a greater understanding to advance their efforts around topics, such as assessment, voter engagement, service-learning, activism, and strategic planning. Come for this session to help NASPA plan for the next five years!

PC 48 Woman to Woman: Addressing the Relationship Issues Among Women in the Academy

Convention Center, 207 B

Lamara Warren, Indiana University, Bloomington
Quiana Stone, DePaul University

Timeka Rashid, Kent State University
A woman's holistic identity is impacted by the intersectionalities of her gender with other facets of her life including race, socioeconomic status, religion, age, sexual orientation, etc. The intersectionality of race and gender often results in discord among women in higher education and student affairs thus stifling interactions among women and limiting their ability to share BIG ideas, address BIG challenges, and explore BIG opportunities.

PC 49 Collaboration Across Campus to Address Food Insecurity and Food Waste

Convention Center, 206 A

Sharon Kompalla-Porter, Rochester Institute of Technology

Chelsea Sims, Rochester Institute of Technology
Clare Cady, Temple University
Tim Miller, George Washington University
There is a growing trend of student food insecurity at colleges and universities. Educators and students are rising to the challenge and developing foodbanks, foodshare experiences, and other innovative programs that help combat food insecurity, increase sustainability efforts, and grow awareness about this important issue. Join professionals at various universities who have effectively implemented these initiatives, learn from the stories and develop initial capacities to develop a campus food pantry in your campus community.

PC 50 Being Both: Integrating Poor & Working Class Roots With a Middle Class Higher Ed Identity

Convention Center, 206 B

Sonja Ardoin, Boston University
Tori Svoboda, University of Wisconsin, La Crosse
becky martinez, Infinity Martinez Consulting
Jamie Washington, Washington Consulting Group
Tom Segar, Shepherd University
Similar to other underrepresented populations, student affairs educators from poor, working class, lower SES, and blue collar backgrounds experience complex transitions as they begin work in higher education. Issues of economic, cultural, social, and linguistic capital can arise everywhere from the boardroom to the buffet line. Presenters will provide space to discuss our poor, working class, or blue collar backgrounds and how those, along with other identities, shape the way we move through higher education.

PC 51 Engaging Interfaith: Creating Meaningful Religious, Secular, and Spiritual Diversity Resources Throughout Campus

Convention Center, 006 C

Ross Wantland, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Rachel Samuelson, Portland State University

Janett Ramos, Northeastern Illinois University

Zach Cole, Tufts University

Cody Nielsen, University of Minnesota-Twin Cities

Sable Manson, University of Southern California

Higher education professionals often work in formal and informal spaces to foster religious, secular and spiritual (RSS) engagement. Often educators struggle to move this work from the margins into the everyday campus experience. This session will examine the ways that programming for RSS identity and engagement intersect with the breadth of functional areas and competencies in student affairs. Participants will learn strategies for institutionalizing RSS engagement on their campuses.

PC 52 2017 New Professional Symposium

Convention Center, 225 A

Domonique Crosby, Washington University in St. Louis

The NASPA New Professionals Symposium is an opportunity for this group to learn, share, network, and develop both personally and professionally. This opportunity allows new professionals to draw on their first years of experience to improve their overall effectiveness, learn from others, as well as to develop personal awareness.

PC 53 Redefining Race-Based Narratives: An Exploratory and Train-the-Trainer Approach

Convention Center, 007 A

Abby Chien, University of Michigan

Amy Sellers, Kansas State University

Matthew Jeffries, Washington State University, Salina

Christina Wan, Georgia State University

Benjamin Beltran, University of Maryland, College Park

This session is designed to expand participants' frame of reference for multiracial and transracial adoptee identity. Participants will learn and practice storytelling tools, focusing on arts-based inquiry and critical autoethnographies from the lens of multiracial, transracial and transracial adoption frameworks. Participation is not limited to those who identify as members of the multiracial or transracial adoptee communities, as it will provide transferrable skills to anyone engaging communities within or outside of their own.

FEATURED EDUCATIONAL SESSION

Monday, March 13

8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C3

015 Bias-Related Incidents on Campus: Implementing Lawful and Meaningful Responses

Moderator: Denzil Suite, Vice President of Student Life, University of Washington
Tamra English, Senior Associate General Counsel and Managing Attorney, University of Texas
Marla Morgen, Senior Associate General Counsel, DePaul University

In an effort to build and maintain inclusive communities, most colleges and universities have bias-reporting channels in place so that aggrieved students have a venue through which they can report bias incidents and seek redress. Some allegations of bias are actionable under the law, and obligate institutions to take steps toward remedying the harm. Other allegations, although potentially involving bias, are protected forms of expression. Yet other allegations fall somewhere between these two categories. In all cases, Student Affairs professionals and other administrators endeavor to respond to allegations of bias in lawful and meaningful ways. This session will explore various approaches to addressing bias-related incidents. Attorneys from public and private institutions will pair with an experienced Vice President of Student Affairs to examine bias reporting structures at various colleges and universities; legal considerations for campus employees who address bias incidents; and proactive and responsive ways to address bias incidents other than through discipline.

ACHA 2017

Austin, TX | May 30 - June 3

IGNITING INNOVATION

JW MARRIOTT AUSTIN

110 E 2ND ST. AUSTIN, TX 78701

BECAUSE YOU SUPPORT STUDENT HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Send your student health, counseling, and wellness staff to the American College Health Association 2017 Annual Meeting in Austin, May 30-June 3, where they will join nearly 2,000 of their colleagues from across the country to share ideas and inspire innovative strategies for your campus.

ACHA Annual Meeting attendees create their own conference experience from a wide variety of over 150 educational sessions and networking events that are designed to:

- Innovate – Learn strategies for implementing innovative programs on campus in administration, wellness, health promotion, mental health, and clinical care – all designed to advance the health of your students
- Expand – Understand the latest updates in research, policies, and guidelines to ensure compliance with critical national initiatives
- Connect – Build a nationwide network of experienced college health professionals to support your efforts in maintaining state-of-the-art programs and services
- Engage – Discuss how to create strategic collaborations with campus partners to achieve optimal student health outcomes

Encourage your student health, counseling, and wellness staff to register today for the ACHA 2017 Annual Meeting – you're sure to see the results on your campus!

Professor Adam Habib

Vice-Chancellor, University of Witwatersrand, South Africa

The evolutionary growth postsecondary education is affected by enormous challenges and is often constrained by national politics, bureaucracy, and resource limitations that threaten the equality of the global academy. Universities across the globe have been experiencing a rise in student activism. Join Professor Habib and your colleagues in an important dialogue about how we achieve inclusive higher education and, at the same time, tackle the major challenges of inequality, public health, climate change, and many more through the power of postsecondary education.

SALT |

Creating Financially Responsible Graduates

Salt® is a free nonprofit-backed program dedicated to helping students plan for, pay for, and repay the cost of their college degree.

Our digital platform and personalized counseling ensures your students become successful alumni in a financially responsible way.

Salt, powered by the nonprofit American Student Assistance® (ASA), is an education finance support program that helps remove the financial barriers to higher education so students and alumni can freely and confidently pursue their dreams.

PRACTICES TO ENGAGE YOUNG LEADERS

A CONTEMPORARY AND COMPASSIONATE APPROACH FOR TEACHING ADAPTIVE LEADERSHIP TO EMERGING ADULTS

Do you want to:

- Work with people at the edges of their learning?
- Teach thoughtfulness, self-reflection, and how to lead?
- Engage in your own growth and learning?
- Become better at implementing Adaptive Leadership in your context?
- Increase retention and persistence toward graduation?

Then you are ready to do the difficult work to support and challenge emerging adults to become the powerful and ethical leaders our complex world needs.

Join us: Engaging Young Leaders

Monday, June 19 - Wednesday, June 21, 2017 on the University of Minnesota - Twin Cities Campus!

FEATURED SPEAKER

Monday, March 13

1:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Hemisfair Ballroom C1/C2

Chris Mosier

Team USA Athlete, Educator, LGBTQ Rights Activist

Chris Mosier is an athlete, coach, and educator, and the founder of TransAthlete.com. In 2015, he became the first openly trans man to make a Men's US National Team. Following the national championship race, he was instrumental in getting the International Olympic Committee policy on transgender athletes changed, and in June 2016 he became the first trans athlete to compete in a world championship race under the new rules, where he was the second fastest American man in his group. Chris is a two-time member of Team USA, representing the United States in the short course and long course duathlon, which is a run/bike/run event. He was featured in a Nike commercial which aired during the 2016 Rio Olympic Games. Chris is also a student affairs educator! Starting out his career in student affairs, Chris was an active member in the NASPA Gender and Sexuality Knowledge Community (formerly GLBT KC) and was integral in the Trans Inclusion Subcommittee that advocated for change in NASPA's policies. Join Chris for a conversation about his journey and how it connects to higher education and inclusive practices.

EXTENDED SESSIONS

Monday, March 13

2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Convention Center, 206 A

EX2 How Leaders Can Use Innovation to Re-engineer Student Affairs to Meet the Challenge of the Future

Laurence B. Smith, New Campus Dynamics

Albert B. Blixt, New Campus Dynamics

This session is especially designed for student affairs executives who want to lead transformational innovation to build a thriving, future focused student affairs enterprise. This action packed, interactive session will provide participants with leadership strategies, tools and techniques for creating an Innovation Hub that will support a steady stream of new thinking and solutions for doing more with less while dealing with persistent problems and new possibilities and expectations.

Participants will learn how innovation and re-engineering principles can be best applied to higher education. The session will cover the most promising innovation domains for student affairs as well as academic and administrative affairs. Participants will have access to online tools to help them establish an Innovation Hub and to institutionalize innovation into the student affairs and campus cultures.

2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Marriott Rivercenter, Grand Ballroom Salon E

EX3 Taking Care of the Activist in You

Adriana Di Bartolo, Vassar College

Mary Grace Almandrez, Brown University

David Jones, Rutgers University

Patricia Alvarez, Dayton University

Alex Vasquez, Amherst College

Kendra Stewart-Tillman, Clemson University

More than ever before student affairs professionals are being challenged with striking a balance between their personal commitments to addressing social justice issues and serving as institutional agents. The tension between being a social activist and a college administrator is one that can lead to dissonance for student affairs practitioners trying to establish their personal and professional identities, especially for newer professionals. The recent presidential election and continuing racial tensions across the country have further highlighted the unique challenges faced by student affairs professionals as they strive to be responsive to students, their institutions, and to addressing issues of inequality in society. This program session will provide a space to explore this tension and identify ways to "take care of the activist in you."

Teri Lyn Hinds, Director of Public Research and Advocacy, NASPA

Diana Ali, Public Policy Analyst, NASPA

Higher education leaders have many questions about the direction of policy at the national level and the impacts on our campuses. Will there be changes to FLSA, federal financial aid, or the Dream Act which impacts undocumented students? How has the rhetoric of this campaign impacted campus communities? How do national and state agendas align or differ? What does the future hold? Panelists for this session will give a legislative update, provide an open dialogue on the NASPA public policy agenda, and discuss how we can move forward together in our current political climate.

FEATURED EDUCATIONAL SESSION

Tuesday, March 14

1:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, 206 A

Well-being and Its Relevance for Underserved Students

Don Harward, Bringing Theory to Practice

Corey Keyes, Winship Distinguished Research Professor, Emory University

Kazi Joshua, Vice President of Intercultural Affairs and Chief Diversity Officer, Whitman College

Charlotte Marshall, Assistant Professor of Psychology, Widener University

Bringing Theory to Practice (BTtoP) is pleased to be invited to offer a panel session as part of the 2017 NASPA Annual Conference. The session reflects BTtoP's mission to advance higher education's "greater purposes," one of which ought to be the well-being of all its constituents, an assertion highlighted in our recently released volume Well-Being and Higher Education.

More traditionally underrepresented students—such as first generation, low income, non-traditional age, and minority students of color—are on college campuses than ever before. Despite the unique strengths and the valuable experience and perspective they bring, these students often struggle when they encounter inequalities and prejudice on campus, unfamiliar systems, difficulties in finding professors responsive to them, and overt political racism. Such conditions are the antithesis of ones in a campus culture which fosters well-being.

This panel, featuring experts on student well-being from institutions across the country, will present both the theoretical justification, as well as institutional evidence and practices, for how attention to the well-being of underserved populations of students can promote their sense of belonging as well as dimensions of their self-realization, flourishing, and identity formation. Both hedonic and eudaimonic dimensions of well-being will be established as related to student resilience, persistence, and academic development.

EXTENDED SESSION

Tuesday, March 14

2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Grand Hyatt, Texas D

EXTENDED SESSION FOR VICE PRESIDENTS, CHIEF DIVERSITY
OFFICERS, AND PROVOSTS

Forging a Collaborative Path for Inclusion and Change in Higher Education: Responding to Student Activism in an Era of Heightened Uncertainty

Shaun Harper, University of Pennsylvania

Salvador Mena, Rutgers University

Felicia McGinty, Rutgers University

Lori White, Washington University in St. Louis

Patricia Whitely, University of Miami

Ajay Nair, Emory University

The current landscape for diversity, and inclusion in higher education, calls for collaborative partnerships to enhance the student experience and help foster environments of inclusion for students, faculty, and staff. The last several years have ushered in a new era of social activism on campuses throughout the country raising the stakes for how colleges and universities respond to the needs of historically marginalized communities while preserving learning environments where the free exchange of ideas can occur without censorship. The outcomes of the recent national elections have contributed to a heightened state of uncertainty for institutions of higher education. This daylong program and two-hour extended session will provide senior institutional leaders with the opportunity to examine critically the state-of-diversity and inclusion in higher education, and to identify strategic collaborative approaches for addressing current and emerging challenges.

Loving Day

Loving Day is named after Loving v. Virginia, the Supreme Court decision that legalized interracial marriage in the United States. It encourages people to host celebrations in honor of the case's anniversary on June 12th. Tanabe created the Loving Day concept and it has inspired hundreds of events in cities worldwide. The roots of the project are in graphic design: it began as his graduate thesis at Parsons the New School for Design. Join Tanabe and the MultiRacial KC for an engaging conversation about the 50th Anniversary of this milestone ruling.

2017 NASPA Religious, Secular, and Spiritual Identities Convergence

MAY 22 – 24, 2017

UCLA MEYER AND RENEE LUSKIN CONFERENCE CENTER, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

The #RSSIConvergence conference is designed for higher education faculty across all disciplines, student affairs administrators, students, campus ministers, chaplains, religious professionals, interfaith educators, as well as university affiliates and partners who work in and want to facilitate religious, secular, and spiritual endeavors.

Through this professional development experience, one can anticipate:

1

Learning about innovative programs and practices;

2

Engaging in a professional and personal exploration of identity; and

3

Participating in robust discussions to create more socially-just and civically-engaged campus communities.

For more information, to register, and to submit a program proposal, visit: bit.ly/2017Convergence

Intersections of Identity: Preparing College Educators for Important Conversations

Brian Medina, Frostburg State University
Erica Zamora, Southern Methodist University

Intersectionality is a term that refers to one's multiple and layered identities. We want to provide a space to prepare educators for, the sometimes challenging yet extremely important, conversations as one explores the intersections of identity in higher education. Several Knowledge Community leaders have come together to create a toolkit demonstration to prepare educators to engage in this space. Join us for a session in conversation, practice, and exploration.
